RAMANAGARAM CIVIL COURT ISSUES PERMANENT INJUNCTION RESTRAINING AGITATING WORKMEN OF WONDERLA AMUSEMENT PARK

1. Wonderla Holiday's Ltd has established amusement park near Ramanagaram. During September 2014 the Wonderla Karmika Sangha had issued strike notice to press their demand for cancelling the transfer order of certain workmen from the above park to the company's establishment being set up at Hyderabad. The Union and the workmen had chalked out elaborate program for the intensifying and continuing their agitation and resorting the strike. The management apprehended that agitation is unlikely to be peaceful and the workmen may prevent ingress and egress to the premises by assembling in front of the park and thus block the entry and exit of men and material and vehicles in and out of the park.
2. The company filed Civil Suit for permanent injunction and also an application for exparte temporary injunction. The Court granted temporary injunction as prayed for by the company.
3. After elaborate evidence and arguments, the Hon'ble Court was pleased to grant permanent injunction by its judgment dated 27.10.2021. The operative portion of the judgment is extracted below:

"The Suit of the plaintiff is hereby partly decreed with cost. The defendants are hereby permanently restraining from causing any damage to the plaintiff company and not to cause any disturbance and nuisance to ingress and egress of the man and materials, public and visitors to the plaintiff company. The defendants are hereby permanently restraining from not to disturb employees of the plaintiff company during working hours. Draw decree accordingly".
